

Simeon's Song

I waited, for your justice, I waited, a lifetime of years I waited, prayed and trusted, now the end of my days draws near

In the watches of the night, when courage faltered
I remembered Your faithfulness In the silence of the night, when You seemed so far off I recalled what You revealed to me

I remembered Holy Spirit, Living water speaking to my soul, You said I would see your salvation, Messiah and then you'd call me home Messiah

My eyes fail me now, scrolls of prophets are a blur But those words are still alive in mind and heart
I know one day they'll be fulfilled, Your promise come to pass

Then you'd allow this servant to depart.

Holy Spirit led me to the temple
today,
They entered, peace filled my soul
I gathered the babe from his mother's embrace so warm, so real, so close Messiah Messiah

A light to the nations, The glory of Israel
A light to the world - Jesus

A light; the glory; A light; the glory; A light

when courage falters Bring to mind what God has done before
